

Do you know a star?

Nominations for the 2008 QIA STAR Awards are now open!

Now in their fifth year, the annual STAR Awards recognise and reward individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the quality of learning in the further education and skills sector.

The awards are open to any member of staff who works in the sector, for an organisation that is either fully or partly funded by the Learning and Skills Council (LSC). Anyone can nominate including learners, colleagues and managers.

Nominate online now at <http://staraward.qia.org.uk/>

Nominations close on 6 June 2008.

Contacts

For general enquiries about QIA's Skills for Life Improvement Programme contact the programme office: 0118 902 1920, sflipinfo@cfbt.com or see www.sflip.org.uk

Consortium members, programme responsibility and main contact

CfBT Education Trust* Monica Turner	Quality through a Whole Organisation Approach mturner@cfbt.com
LLU+ London South Bank University Helen Sunderland	Training the Teacher Trainers h.sunderland@lsbu.ac.uk
Learning and Skills Network* Helen Holden	Embedding Assessment hholden@LSNeducation.org.uk
The National Institute of Adult Continuing Education* Joyce Black	Learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities Speaking and listening joyce.black@niace.org.uk
The National Research and Development Centre for Adult Literacy and Numeracy* Helen Casey	Teacher training New models of delivery h.casey@ioe.ac.uk
Skill: National Bureau for Students with Disabilities Barbara Waters	Learners with learning difficulties and/or disabilities bwaters@skill.org.uk
University of Wolverhampton Karl Royle	Mentor training k.royle@wlv.ac.uk

* Denotes Coordinating Partner