

Skills for Life Improvement Programme

FREE

Training the Numeracy Teacher Trainers

London: 20th, 21st, 22nd July 09
10.00am - 4.00pm

Closing date for applications:
22nd June 2009
(places are limited)

This intensive Training the Teacher Trainer course consists of three contact days, tutorial support, and up to 180 self study / blended learning hours. The course covers subject specific theory and practice of numeracy teacher training.

Is this course for me?

If you would like to build your confidence as a teacher trainer and would like an opportunity to reflect on and up-date your practice, or if you are an experienced numeracy teacher who is thinking of becoming a teacher trainer, then this course is for you.

What will I gain from this course?

It will help you to:

- identify your development needs as a numeracy teacher trainer
- up-date yourself on developments in teacher education
- develop skills in planning teacher training courses
- consider trends and methodologies in teacher education
- critically reflect on theory and practice in teacher education
- meet your annual CPD target

What are the entry criteria?

It is open to well qualified numeracy teachers and teacher trainers with at least three years experience of teaching within a Skills for Life setting. You will need to attend all three days and be committed to completing the set assignment.

What does it lead to?

On successful completion of the course (including the assignment) you will receive 20 credits at M Level, and will have the opportunity to progress to a Masters Level (Level 7) Postgraduate Certificate, Diploma or Masters in Teacher Education accredited by London South Bank University.

How can I get more information or apply?

For an application form or further information please contact:

Clarre Thomas

LLU+, London South Bank University

103 Borough Road, London SE1 0AA

Tel: 0207 815 6286 Fax: 0207 815 6286

Email: c.thomas@lsbu.ac.uk